The Brig HARRISON, Capt. LYDE, arrived here on Tuesday last from LONDON.

LONDON May 1, — 7.

It is now confidently asserted, that a certain production, which lately appeared in the public prints, written by a celebrated exile, would never have been published had not a certain great person's behaviour to his noble brother provoked the latter to deliver him up to the mercy of the said exile's most keen and formidable pen. [Lon. Even.

Commodore Palliser on his arrival at Newfoundland, received orders to station a frigate of war at each of the islands of St. Peter's and Miquelon for preventing the English from carrying on any illegal traffick with the French.

The Bruffels Gazette, received on Wednesday hath the following paragraph under London, April 24 " We are not without fear lest the measures taken for the establishing of a tax in America, should give rise to new troubles in most of our colonies — Precaution however will be taken to leave the repartition and collection of it to the assemblies of the different provinces, to whom the governors are to make the proposition relative thereto, on the part of the King on condition that they charge themselves with remitting the produce of the tax to the Exchequer here, to be disposed of by Parliament. The spirit of revolt and independency, which reign in that country give us no reason to depend on any good dispositions on their parts.

It is said, that the confiscated effects belonging to the Jesuits through the whole kingdom of Spain, already amounted to the sum of Seventy five millions of pistlers, exclusive of the spoils expected from that society in the Indies.

May 8. The Right Hon Charles Townshend, Esq; Chancellor of the Exchequer, has received so much hurt from a fall, as to prevent his attending the service of Parliament; but he is now much better.

No fleet will sail towards the Tagus till the arrival of a catagorical answer to some very important dispatches lately sent over to Lisbon.

It is strongly reported, that the parliament will be dissolved, and a new one called, so soon as the present sessions shall be ended. This measure was adopted (the last time) in the year 1747; when the ministry, in order to save the great expence of a twelvemonth's canvassing for members, which would have been the consequence, procured the parliament's dissolution at the expiration of six years.

May 12. Yesterday there was a full House of Commons, and it was expected they would sit late; some accounts from America, which were laid before them, for their inspection, were the Object of the Debates.

Last week some dispatches said to be of importance were received at the Secretary of State's office from his Excellency Francis Bernard, Esq; Governor of New-England, which have already been laid before a cabinet council at St James's.

May 12. The Active man of war, Capt. Carket, and the Glasgow, Capt Vincent, are arrived.

By the late seizure of the Jesuits papers and effects in Spain it is said to have been discovered that an immense trade in gold and diamonds has for some years past been carried on by these fathers from South America, in which certain Spaniards in office in America and the West Indies are discovered to have been secretly concerned.

May 14. It is said Sir Edward Hawke will soon be created a Peer of Ireland.

It has been remarked at the West End of the Town as a Matter well worth noticing that almost for a Month past there have not been less than 400 Members every Day in a certain Assembly.

The Providence, Clark, is sailed from Southampton, with troops for New-York.

There were 33 houses or colleges of the Jesuits in the province of Castille; 30 in that of Toledo; 31 in the Province of Andalusia; and 24 in that of Arragon; which made 118 in all.

The departure of two companies of the Royal regiment of Artillery for America is postponed till after the review of the three regiments of Foot Guards which is fixed for the 19th of next month.

Yesterday Lord Chatham was much better, and is expected in a few days in town from North-End.

NEW-YORK, June 25.

It is said strict orders are sent to the West Indies, to observe and detect the New England, New York, and Philadelphia Captains of Vessels, in selling Hats of their respective Provinces, which is prohibited, under a severe Penalty, on the Captain and all concerned in it. Complaint having been made at Home of great quantities being sent from those Colonies of the fine Beaver Kind, to the great Prejudice of the Beaver Hat Trade at Home.

Boston, July 2.

Extract of a Letter from London, May 11.

" A few Days before the House of Commons adjourned for the Easter Holidays, the Ch——r of the Ex——r opened his Budget, with very great Applause, even Mr G——lle complimented him on the Occasion: among other things he made it appear, that besides paying the Navy and Army and all other Charges of Government for the last Year, he had sunk Three Millions nine hundred Thousand Pounds of the National Debt, and assured them that the next Year he would discharge a much greater Sum, notwithstanding they had reduced the Land-Tax one Shilling in the Pound. He took an Occasion Yesterday to say, that it was reported out of Doors that he was for taxing America. I declare, says he, I am not nor never was; I thought the Stamp-Act a very improper Measure, and us'd my Endeavours for the Repeal; and (holding out his Hand) he said he would cut off that Hand before he would vote for taxing America. And if any of the Duties laid on Trade shall appear burthensome, nothing shall be wanting in me to remove them." Charles Townsend Chancellor of Exchequer. 14th May 1767.

" Yesterday the Chancellor of the Exchequer mov'd the House for Leave to bring in the following Bills, which was agreed to.

An Act to permit Wine, Fruit and Oil to be carried from Spain and Portugal directly to North-America.

An Act laying a Duty on China, Paper, Glass, and Painters Colours, shipped from Great-Britain to the Colonies.

An Act for settling a Salary on the Governor, and Judges, &c in North America

An Act for Establishing a Board of Revenue in North America.

Captain Lyde left London May 14th, just as he came away some Gentlemen at the New England Coffee-House, wrote the following Articles, and gave to some of the Passengers, viz.

" The Parliament met the 13th of May upon American Affairs, and resolved that a Bill be brought in after the following Manner,

That a Tax be laid on Painters Colours, Paper, Glass and China. That the Americans may have Liberty of importing Lemmons, Wine, Fruit & Oil directly from Spain and Portugal, subject to a Duty, the Duty on Wine to be 7 £ per Ton. That the Duty on Tea remaining in England be taken off, and a Duty of 3 d. per lb. be laid on the Importation in America. That there be a Board of Customs, as also a Court of Exchequer in New England. That the Legislative Power of New York cease until they comply with the Billeting Bill. That the Governors and Judges be made independent by encreasing their Salary, which is to be paid out of the Revenues of the Customs.

George Greenville made a Motion to oblige the Americans to take an Oath of Allegiance and Obedience to the Parliament of Great Britain, which was put to Vote—for the Question 90 against it 180 odd.

Thus far the Manuscript.

In the Brig Harrison came Passenger Francis Bernard, Esq; eldest Son of his Excellency the Governor, and several other Gentlemen.

We hear from Milton, that Mr. Pelatiah Rawson, of that Place above 70 years of age last Wednesday Morning took his Hat and Staff, and walked to his Calf pasture about 40 Rods from his House, from thence as its thought set off to see his Meadow, and was unfortunately lost. After much Time & Pains taken was found last Sabbath Morning fallen down dead as he seem'd to be walking upon a thatch'd Bank. Upon Examination it appeared to the Jury of Inquest that " he was drowned by the Providence of God.".

To Dr. YOUNG.

SIR,

I Perceive, without emotition, your unavailing rage; and look without concern, upon that malice, which, tho' aimed at another, recoils with redoubled weight upon your own head.

Your challenge to meet you, and demonstrate your ignorance of the Medical science, is intirely superseded by your own publications: And as no honor can be obtain'd from proving that which all the judicious are convinced of, I might justly be excused taking any notice, either of you or your ridiculous vauntings—But as vanity and folly (notwithstanding the strongest proofs to the contrary) may look upon a total neglect as a design to conceal truth from the public eye, I now inform you, that if you are stupidly desirous of having your conduct more critically examined in the affair of Mrs. Davis, I here give you free liberty to chuse your own judges; and if you will let me know the time and place of their being convened (which you may do by a letter lodged at the printing-office) I will readily send in a state of the case, and inform them where they may find the evidences; which will be quite sufficient, without my appearing at the trial; as no arguments will be needed in so clear a case. Any three physicians that you like, will be agreeable to me: for if they are fools, and void of reputation, their approbation will do you very little service; if they are wise and respectable, they will blush to think of degrading their characters, by patronizing criminal ignorance.

The Certificate of your success published last week, tho' it has lessened the honor of the publisher, has added nothing to your's.

Nor can I think it was generous in you to instigate an old gentleman to an action which makes him the object of derision.* It is true, that he has been several times duped by straggling pretenders; some have wrapped him in sheep-skins to remedy his costiveness; and others have pretended to take out his old gall-bladder, and give him a new one: He has complaisantly believed that each has completely cured him—but his foibles would never have been so generally known, if you had not unkindly brought him into public view; a place for which nature never seems to have designed him.

Suffer me, Sir, before I take my leave, to mention one thing more, in which I must think you a little culpable.——You are very sensible, that in order to prevent confusion, it is necessary that different things should be expressed by different sounds—but of late a new-coin'd word is come so greatly into vogue, and is used to express such a variety of things, which are in their nature totally distinct, that in truth conversation will be rendered almost unintelligible, if a speedy stop is not put to this injurious innovation. You are undoubtedly convinced that the word I mean is Youngism. If in the public papers, inaccuracy, malevolence, bad grammar and nonsense, are found, they are immediately pronounced Youngisms.—Self-conceit, vain-boasting, and invincible impudence, are frequently expressed by the word Youngism. The ideas of quackery, ignorance, detraction, irrusion, boorishness and impertinent loquacity, with many others, all belonging to the black catalogue, are thought to be very fully conveyed by the word Youngism—Now as I cannot, without uneasiness, see my native language despoiled of its greatest ornament, perspicuity—I must beg, that for your own sake, if for nothing else, you would desist from encouraging this growing evil.——I am, Sir, with sincere wishes for your amendment, your humble servant,

PHILO PHYSIC.

To Messieurs EDES and GILL,

MANKIND make very different Estimates of Life; some think it the greatest Blessing, while others count it an Hardship tollerable only as it may be bartered for Elysium: Tis to the latter I address my Certificate.

Being of a very tender Habit of Body and liable to Sickness from almost every turn of Wind, I was seized with a slow nervous Fever.

The Physicians first employ'd seem'd to be of that Class who only study hard to prolong Life; by following their Directions I apparently gain'd Strength, but slower than the anxious Affection of my Friends wished: They happily for me apply'd to one who with a wise Contempt for Life, soon fixed me in my present blissful State, by removing all Obstructions that my Soul might have an easy Passage.

Justice to his Character obliges me to make this publick, as a Dorchester Certificate has endeavoured to place him among such unwise Practitioners as were at first consulted in my Case. But Impartiality leads me to blame his practising upon my Corps, that violent Method of Shaking, by which he had seen many called back to the Toil of Life.

Madrid, April 3. The moveable and immoveable effects taken from the Jesuits will be applied to the establishment of hospitals and other pious foundations.

It is matter of surprize that the whole plan of the expulsion of the Jesuits have been kept secret, as we are assured that the Commissaries appointed to form and carry it into execution have been employed thereon about a year.

LONDON.

May 4. A considerable quantity of fire-arms was found in the Jesuits convent at Barcelona, where, on their being surprized, they threw into the fire some large bundles of books & manuscripts, but the Governor, we are told, recovered a great part of them from the flames.

Letters from Paris say, that it is expected the banishment of the Jesuits from Spain will be followed by their expulsion from the dominions of his Sicilian Majesty.

May 9. By the last Boston papers it appears, that the Governor and Assembly there are at high disputes.

It is said, Mr. Obrien is appointed Secretary of Boston, in the room of the Hon. George Clarke, Esq; resigned.

A Quarter-master at Putney, has now a dog to whom he gives a halfpenny every morning, which the dog lays out at a neighbouring Chandler's shop for a roll to his breakfast; a few days ago the animal went as usual for his roll, but finding it too hot, was obliged to drop it by the way, on which he ran back, snatched up his halfpenny from the Counter, and laid the money out at another shop; a gentleman has offered twenty guineas for him, but was refused.

May 11. Wednesday afternoon sailed from Spithead, his Majesty's ship Guernsey, Com. Palliser, for Newfoundland.

May 12. According to letters from New York a subscription would this summer be set on foot, by the principal Merchants and landed Gentlemen, for establishing a Bank, in which the money currency of the province would be regulated on a new plan.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.

Capt. Todd, from Madeira, informs, that on his outward bound Passage, on the 25th of March, about eight o'Clock at Night, in Lat. 33 : 45, Long. 39 : 27, being then in a hard Gale of Wind, and heavy sea, scudding under his square-sail, he had like to have run on board a double decked Brig, which he took to be American built, lying in the Trough of the sea, without any Person on board, or any sail set; her Fore-topsail tore all to Pieces, her Main-topmast gone, and her Boom out of the Crotch.

NEW-YORK, June 29.

The Sloop Dove, Capt. Bell in 18 Days from St. Croix, on the 13th instant, in Lat. 31. Long. 70. fell in with two French Ships bound from Cape-Francois to Old France, who fired a Shot, brought her to, and ordered her to send her Boat on board, but finding she did not readily obey, one of the Ships hoisted out her own Boat, and sent her on board the Sloop with a Letter for a Merchant in this City, and after demanding of the Sloop the Latitude and Longitude they were in, dismissed her to proceed on her Voyage.

By Capt. Darrell from St. Vincent's, we learn, That the English Settlements on that Island, proceed with a good deal of Life and Vigour, and that it bids fair to be one of the most flourishing Islands in the West-Indies: Above Hundred Hogsheads of Sugar has been made on it this last Season, and it is supposed above ten Times as much will be produced next Year:---That the Commissioners for disposing of the Crown Lands in the new ceded Islands, having finished that Business at Dominica, had come down to St. Vincent's a short Time before Capt. Darrell left it, and were upon disposing of the Remainder of the Land, that was left then unsold before.—Lands near the Chief Town had been last Year sold at above Fifty Pounds Sterling an Acre; the best of those in the remote Parts of the Island now sold at about Twenty-five Pounds an Acre; and the rocky and mountainous Parts, with nothing but Woods and Stones on them, sold from about £. 3 to £. 5. per Acre, according to the Situation thereof; and great Numbers of new Plantations were every Day improving with all the Diligence possible.——A Civil Government was lately established there, in the same Manner as it has heretofore been in the English Islands, and every Measure taken to render the Inhabitants as secure and free as any other of his Majesty's Subjects.

The Nancy Graham, Blackwell, is arrived at Hampton in Virginia, in 6 Weeks from London: On his Passage, he spoke with the Schooner Sally, of Philadelphia, William Taylor, Master, bound for Portsmouth, from Senegal, as an Express from the Governor of that Place. Capt. Taylor had met with very stormy Weather, in which his Mate was washed overboard and lost.

Stephen Porter supposed to be concerned in the Murder of Capt. Westcot, of Bristol, as mentioned in the Mercury the 30th of March, and 6th of April last, was committed to our Goal last Saturday: He was taken up by Capt. Roger Richards, with whom he came Passenger about 8 Months since, from St. Eustatia: He shipped himself on board Capt. Wallace's Brig bound for Pensacola, and chose a Portuguese Sailor for his Companion.

By the Deposition of a Lad, named William Harris, before Governor De Windt, of St. Eustatia, in Feb. 1767, it appears, That Capt. Westcot sailed from Bristol in June 1765, for the Coast of Africa; where they continued for 12 Months, and then sailed for St. Kitts; That about 14 Days after he left the Coast, Porter having offended the Captain, he beat him, and knocked him down; for which the Night following, Porter, Richard Hancock, and George Whaypon, killed the Captain, with an Ax, as he lay asleep on the Round-House; and then dispatched the Mate, with the same Instrument, as he lay in his Cabbin: Five Days after they made St. Jago, where they lost the Sloop, and some of the Slaves; the Remainder they sold to the Portuguese: That Porter, and one George Wherry, took their Passages with Capt. Daniel Ritzler Bernhoff, from St. Jago, and arrived safe at Statia: That Whaypon was born in Virginia, is a very tall Man, and about 24 Years old.

Nathaniel Marshal, late Master of the Brig Canso, of Piscataqua, is arrived at Philadelphia, from Martinico: The 4th of February last on his Voyage from Piscataqua for the Grenades, his Vessel sprung a Leak which gained on them so fast, they left her the 8th, and was taken up by a Vessel bound to Old France, and from thence took a Passage to Martinico.

Capt. Craig from St. Kitts, on the 9th inst. spoke a Brig, bound from Boston to Monti-Christo, who had been out then 26 Days.

A few Days ago a Number of Soldiers of the 28th Regiment, came up here from Perth-Amboy in New-Jersey, and embarked on board the Brig Cornelia, Capt. Harvey, for St. Augustine. And the next Day, a young Woman on board with them, having taken some Disgust at her Treatment, jump'd overboar'd, 'tis said with a Design of Drowning herself; two of the Soldiers jump'd after her, in order to save her; and if a Boat had not happily put off from the Shore, which with some Difficulty saved them, they probably had all three perished.

NEW-LONDON, June 26.

We are credibly informed that Major-General Lyman, now in London, has obtained a Grant of Land in Behalf of the Military-Adventurers, 200 Miles Square, bounded on the River Mississippi, for a distinct Government.——But whether the Crown will grant any Encouragement towards the Settlement of this Colony, or who is to Command the same is not yet known.

We hear that at raising a Meeting House in Bolton last Week, the following Accidents happened, viz. A Man fell from near the Top of the House, and in his way down bruised and broke his Thigh in a terrible Manner, as also broke Four of his Ribs, and his Life was despaired of.——Another Man had the Calf of one Leg torn off.—And a Woman who was riding by the House was thrown from her Horse (by Means of his suddenly starting), had her Neck broke, and died immediately.

BOSTON, July 6.

The Captains Jarvis, Daverson, and Scott, were put up for this Place, but would not leave London in 6 Weeks after Captain Lyde. We hear there would be no Mails dispatched the second Saturday in May for New-York, but that the Packet would be detained until the American Affairs were settled in Parliament.

We hear from Warwick in Rhode-Island Government, that last Monday Night 26 Sheep were kill'd by a Flash of Lightning.

We hear that on Friday last, Hay sold at a Dollar per 100wt. and still bears a very high Price, occasioned by the late dry Season.

Last Week sundry Robberies were committed in this Town, and some very large ones; only one of the Villains is as yet apprehended, who stole 16 half-Johannes, 21 Guineas, and some Silver from Capt. Wier in the Quebec Trade, and is now in Goal; and 'tis hoped he will meet with his Deserts. People would do well to see that their Windows and Doors were secure before they went to Bed, as this Town seems at present to be infested with a Number of Vagrants.

Stray'd out of a Pasture of Colonel Lincoln's at Hingham last Week, a black Mare, with some white in her Forehead, and one hind Foot white, and above the white a little grey up the Leg; the Tail cut square. Whoever takes up said Mare, and returns her to Colonel Lincoln of Hingham, or William Frobisher at Boston, shall be well rewarded for their Trouble. July 4.

Forty Dollars Reward.

Smith's Moral Sentiments.

The Vicar of Wakefield.

A Tale. Supposed to be written by himself.

(Price 6s.)

Sperate miseri, cavete felices.

The Vicar unites in himself the three greatest Characters upon Earth; he is a Priest, an Husbandman, and the Father of a Family. He is drawn as ready to teach, and ready to obey; as simple in Affluence, and majestic in adversity. Every reader must be delighted with him for his sincerity, his hospitality, his fervent and overflowing affections, his divine propensity to forgiveness and reconciliation, his unaffected magnanimity in deep affliction, and his exemplary moderation when raised to affluence and joy. The Family of Wakefield, in which a kindred likeness prevails of minds as well as of persons, and the other characters introduced are well marked and properly supported, and there are interspersed much rational entertainment, genuine strokes of nature and humour, and pathetic pictures of domestic happiness and domestic distress, drawn from Life, and directed to the heart.

This excellent novel does great honor to the author Dr. Goldsmith, for its moral tendency; and for recommending and enforcing in the most exemplary manner, the great obligations of universal BENEVOLENCE: the most amiable quality that can possibly distinguish and adorn HUMAN NATURE.
